Dear Valued Resident,

The City of Rogue River is doing a very important study that will be taking place overnight on Thursday 4/13/17 and into the morning of Friday 4/14/17. This study is to collect critical information to evaluate our Wastewater Collection system, inflow and infiltration (water entering the collection system through cracks in pipes and manholes) and possible other sources of water entering the collection system. These waters reduce the capacity of our system and create many undesirable and costly challenges.

In order to do this study we need to have access to "ALL" the manholes in our collection system and some of this manhole are located in areas such as yards and alleyways. Your property has been determined to contain one of these manholes. There will be engineering and City Staff conducting this study on the night mentioned and we need to have access into your property for a very brief period of time.

In the event that you have a dog that might create a potential hazard, please either restrain or relocate the animal outside of the area of the manhole if you are unable to do this please notify us prior to the study. If the manhole is in an area that is through a locked gate please make temporary access to the area.

If you have any questions, concerns or need special accommodations please contact us.

Thank you in advance,,

Michael Bollweg
